

Introduction

This is the first page of the sample document. It contains introductory text for testing.

Methods

This is the second page. It describes the methods used in this study.